COMPANY K SHOTS LEAD ENTIRE FIELD

Windy Weather Seems to Effect but Little the Excellent Marksmanship.

Testerday saw the completion of the annual shoot of the Destrict National Guard. Though a strong breeze swept across the range, necessitating a con-stant use of the wind gauge, a good ing Star trophy, and the Brett revolver matches.

Sergt J. D. Schriver, of the same company, won the Neumeyer match, an event at 90 and 1,000 yards, open only to those who have the rank of "distinguished marksmen," and Sergt A. J. Schmidt, also of Company K. carried off the Herris & Co. trophy. Maj. G. L. Tait, chief range officer, expressed the opinion that the team of Company K. First Infantry, did better work than any other organization on the field.

The event of most interest to spectators was the Smiley individual strimish match, in which the contestants advanced.

Richardson Wiss Trophy.

The brigade team skirmish match was conducted in the same way, and was open to teams from each battallon and regiment of the District National Guard. Richardson, of the Second Infantry, won the trophy with a score of 72.

The Gerstenberg trophy match was a squadded competition at 1,000 yards, open to officers and enlisted men of the guard. Shooting at this distance, over half a mile. Is a sport of great nicety. The wind must be carefully allowed for, and the result is watched through telescopes, Private C. E. Groome, Company B. Second Infantry, won the match with a score of 45.

hereby, repealed."
Judging from telegrams and letters re-ceived in Washington, the country is stirred up over the Democratic policy in opposition to naval extension. The atti-tude of Representative John J. Fitzperaid of Brooklyn, one of the House leaders, has apparently excited resentment in New York. For example, Representative Suiner yesterday received a telegram from J. Sergestin Cram, of Tammany Hall, reading as follows:

Next Year's Bill, Which Is Now Ready for Presentation, Is Accumulative.

By JOSEPH P. ANNIN.

The docility with which the House Democrats allowed their "economisers" to keep from them the annual "pork barrel" public building bill was explained yeaterday. The members who expected public buildings this was explained yeaterday. The members who expected public buildings this year will be royally compensated for their ascriftce as soon as the next session of Congress convents in December. At that time an omnibus bill, which already has been drawn up, subject to additions, will be presented and pork burrelled into the presented and from the years, company the public buildings appropriations for two years rolled into one bill. The members are not to sacrifice their personal and political interests in their districts in the interest of public acquomy; they merely are to wait until the coming selection is past, that the House Democratz may have the credit for reducing public expenditures.

This is the programme and these are pendiures. This is the programme and these are the expectations of the members who have fought the battleship programme on the grounds of conomy. Just how far this programme will be carried out and assistant of the programme will be carried out assistant a

In this programme will be carried out has been according to the course, problematical.

Leaders May Balk.

Whether the leaders of the House next session will stand for such a programme or whether whoever is in the White House will permit the accumulative raid on the Treasury, is a matter of grave doubt. But the bill is tentatively prepared and waiting to be presented and rubbed through at the earliest possible arthrough at the earliest possible warming and the session. It is take the sestimated warming at the session is take in estimated warming at the session in the same of the course of the course of the course will be session to the fact that Speaker Clark and Majority Leader Underwood are on opposite sides of the controversy. Mr. Underwood, it is understood, everrode his own convictions on the battleship programme in order to uphold the platform pledge. Mr. Clark was generally expected to follow the same course as Mr. Underwood, but he voted in the caucus against any addition to the battleship floet at this session. Some coolease between the Speaker and the floor leader since the Democratic convention has been marked, but it was not expected to make itself generally felt in the closing days of the session. The fact that the two leaders paths or that they are mitrely out of sympathy or that they are the sympa trine and the Democratic platform, but are not friends of American labor."

Clark's Stand Canara Comment.

Speaker Clark's vote against the battleship fleet at this seasile the ship resolution in the recent caucus is still the subject of comment among Democrats. The Speaker has been criticised by the battleship advocates, especially as the presiding officer arrared himself against Majority Leader Underwood, the Speaker dear that has changed front on the navi at yesterday that in a waterized statement, came out in an authorized statement, came out in favor of an amendment to the pending many bill providing for one battleship duestion. In a final in the fleet at this time.

The two factions of the House continued yesterday tightening the lines over the Speaker on Wednesday meant that his position in a measure has been missed for the Speaker declare that his position in a measure has been missed for the Speaker of the Speaker declare that his position in a measure has been missed for the Speaker of the Speaker declare that his position in a measure has been missed to the strength of the Speaker of the Speaker declare that his position in a measure has been missed to the strength of the Speaker of the Speaker declare that his position in a measure has been missed to the strength of the Speaker style of the Speaker for the Democratic whole the voice of the Speaker for the Democratic whole to the battleship duestion. In a final a first has been assumed that the vote of the Speaker of Wednesday meant that his position in a measure has been missed to the battleship fine due to make itself generally feet to make itself generally feet to make itself generally feet to make itself generally and the missed of the Speaker of Wednesday meant that his position for the battleship continue to work at the missed general proposed to any additions to the freet at this time.

They declar

of the leading two-battlestip advocates of the House, was busy yesterday circulating his petition for a fourth caucus on the subject. Mr. Sulare claimed to have procured the signatures of thirty-fire Democrats to his petition, and stated that before he finished he would have literatures. All of these, Mr. Sulare claimed, are two-battlestip Democrats, and the present of the next caucus will be presented to the next caucus will be presented to the second the next caucus the second present two battlestips.

It was generally understood presented when the presentative Bursteon, habrend on the caucus, that they will not be bound by its dictum on the battlestip men fail of the pro-battlestip men fail of the heavy declared, it is their intention to believe with the Republicant to believe to the Sanate amendments.
